

Procter & Gamble (P&G) CTPAT Statement of Support for Supply Chain Security

At Procter & Gamble (P&G), we are committed to fostering a secure and resilient supply chain that ensures the safety of our products, our partners, and our consumers. As a proud participant in the Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (CTPAT) program, we recognize the importance of collaboration between the private sector and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) in enhancing security measures across our supply chain.

Our Commitment to Supply Chain Security

1. Prioritizing Security: We understand that the security of our supply chain is vital to our business operations and the safety of our products. P&G is dedicated to implementing robust security practices that mitigate risks and protect against potential threats.
2. Collaboration with Partners: We believe that strong partnerships are essential to achieving supply chain security. P&G actively collaborates with our suppliers, logistics providers, and other stakeholders to ensure that all parties adhere to CTPAT security criteria and best practices.
3. Risk Assessment and Management: We regularly conduct thorough risk assessments of our supply chain to identify vulnerabilities and implement appropriate security measures. This proactive approach allows us to address potential risks before they become threats.
4. Training and Awareness: P&G is committed to providing our employees and partners with the necessary training and resources to promote a culture of security and compliance. We ensure that all personnel are aware of their roles in maintaining supply chain security.
5. Continuous Improvement: We continuously evaluate and enhance our security protocols to adapt to evolving threats and challenges in the global trade environment. Our commitment to continuous improvement ensures that we remain at the forefront of supply chain security.

Our Role in CTPAT

As a CTPAT partner, P&G fully supports the goals and objectives of the program. We pledge to:

- Uphold and comply with all CTPAT security criteria and requirements.
- Maintain transparency and open communication with CBP and our supply chain partners.
- Share best practices and learnings with industry peers to foster a collective commitment to supply chain security.
- Support CBP initiatives aimed at enhancing the security of the international supply chain.

At Procter & Gamble, we recognize that a secure supply chain is fundamental to our success and the trust of our consumers. Through our participation in CTPAT and our unwavering commitment to supply chain security, we strive to create a safer trading environment that benefits not only P&G but also our partners and the communities we serve.

Together, we can build a more secure future.

David Dunoye
Vice President, Global Security
Procter & Gamble